

Renewal by Andersen Creative Modification Ban

We go through great lengths when concepting and designing our newspaper ads. Each component of the ad is deliberately chosen to generate maximum response for our client and adhere to the strict brand standards of Renewal by Andersen, a subsidiary of Andersen Corporation.

In our partnership with you, and the publication(s) you handle, we need to know that our ads will publish as delivered. If our ads are altered without prior, written authorization, we will not approve payment.

Under no circumstances should our ads be modified in any way. This includes gray scaling.

If the ad you receive does not meet sizing, color, or other requirements, as outlined by our insertion order, please contact us immediately. We are happy to make the necessary changes in a timely fashion, but we must always make these modifications ourselves. Your production team cannot modify our print ads.

Please be sure that you have informed all necessary team members of this policy to avoid non-payment.

The undersigned agrees to the terms and conditions as stated above.
